NO. 23

DR. A. T. WATT MEETS DEATH TRAGICALLY

Superintendent of Quarantine Station Killed by Fall From Window of Hospital

HAD BEEN SUFFERING FROM NEURASTHENIA

Greatly Worried by Death of Brother, Illness of Son and Friction at Station

LIVED IN THIS CITY OVER TWENTY YEARS

Dr. A. T. Watt, superintendent of the quarantine station at William Head, fell from a third-story window in St. Joseph's hospital at ten minutes to five o'clock yesterday morning, and was killed instantly. Dr. R. L. Fraser, who, with Dr. Hermann Robertson, had been attending him, was summoned at once, but he found that he had sustained a fractured skull and several other injuries in his terrible fall, any one of which would have been fatal.

Dr. Watt entered the hospital early last week on the advice of his physicians for treatment for neurasthenia, the beginnings of which date back for many months. Several causes combined to unsettle his nerves, and in the case of a man of his sensitive nature they had a cumulative effect. His only brother, Hubert, to whom he was greatly attached, died within the past six months, and on top of this came the serious illness of his eldest boy in the East, necessitating his journeying back there to look after him.

There was also some friction at the station antedating the recent inquiry, and all these things worked on his nerves and mind. For some weeks he suffered from insomnia, and he appeared to be on the verge of a nervous breakdown. The worry of the inquiry added to this, and throughout the proceedings he showed the strain he was under. As soon as the inquiry was over his insomnia became more pronounced, and he felt it necessary to consult Dr. Fraser, who saw that he would have to be sent to hospital and carefully watched. He was given a room on the third story and assigned day and night nurses.

Towards the close of the week he seemed to be improving, and on Saturday night he got a couple of hours' natural sleep. Following this a sleeping draught was administered, and shortly before five o'clock he appeared to be in a sound slumber, not having moved from the time he was given the soporific. The nurse took advantage of the moment to step across the corridor to get some fresh water, but a slight stir in the room brought her back in time to see that the bed was empty and the window curtains disarranged.

She immediately raised the alarm, and the body of the patient was found on the concrete walk which runs by the side of the new portion of the hospital from Collinson street to Humboldt street.

The nurse is prostrated as a result of the occurrence, but no blame is attached to her.

Dr. Alfred T. Watt was born in Meaford, County Grex, Ontario, on August 9, 1868, and was thus within a few days of attaining his forty-fifth birthday. He was a son of Dr. Hugh Watt, who was for many years member of the legislature of British Columbia for Cariboo, and is now living in Kelko, in the Kootenays. He was educated in Upper Canada College and the University of Toronto after completing his medical course was licensed by the Ontario Medical Council, and came to Victoria in the early nineties. He began to practice here at once, living on Fort street, just east of Douglas street. In 1897 he was appointed as superintendent of the quarantine station at William Head, and it was in importance as the business of the port increased, until it was doing five times the work there was in that year. He had made his home at the station ever since his appointment.

In his earlier days Dr. Watt was a great athlete, and distinguished himself especially at Rugby. He played with the "Varsity Rugby team" when it was one of the foremost on the playing fields of the eastern provinces, and he played Rugby for Victoria from 1892 to 1895. Brought up on a farm in one of the prosperous counties of Ontario, his chief hobby was the raising of Southdown sheep, and on his farm at Metehosin he had a herd that won prizes at all the fairs where they were shown.

In December, 1898, Dr. Watt married Miss Madge Robertson, M.A., a daughter of Henry Robertson, K. C., of Collingwood, Ont., and a lady who has always taken a leading place in university and women's society work. There are two sons, Robin and Sholto. The elder is attending University school, where he is the champion boxer and one of the best riflemen in the school. He went east last year with the University school rifle team.

Dr. Watt was a thorough gentleman in every way and was highly esteemed by all who knew him, whether person-

BALKAN CONFERENCE TO OPEN WEDNESDAY

Greece Refuses Bulgaria's Request for Three Days' Truce and Scale Kresna

BATTLE AT STRUMA ANOTHER EXPECTED

Confirmation of Massacres by Turkish Soldiers in Christian Villages

GOVERNMENT UNABLE TO RESTRAIN TROOPS

London, July 28.—The Balkan peace conference is expected to open at Bucharest next Wednesday. Meantime serious fighting continues. The Greeks refused Bulgaria's request for a three-days' truce and after heavy fighting, have scaled Kresna Pass, inflicting a defeat on the Bulgarians at Simkile, capturing three siege guns and driving the Bulgarians back to Djuma. The Greeks claim they have annihilated the whole left of the Bulgarian army and that they have forced the Bulgarians along the Struma. Unless peace is speedily negotiated another great battle may occur at Struma.

The concert of the powers seems as powerless as before to adopt any united action against Turkey. The Porte, however, has disavowed the action of its troops in penetrating Old Bulgaria and no further advance of Turkish troops has been reported. The Turks claim their spoils at Adrianople, consisting of 150 guns, 20,000 rifles and 1,000,000 sacks of corn.

Isset Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, reports that Bulgarians murdered 300 Ottoman soldiers who had been taken prisoners near Kisly Baljale, while an admission of Turkish massacres of Armenians at Malagara and Rodosto comes in a report from Constantinople that a number of Moslems have been sentenced to death or to long terms of imprisonment for implication in the massacres.

Constantinople, July 27.—Trustworthy reports of appalling massacres by Turkish irregular troops came from districts in Thrace which the Turks are reoccupying. The country about Malagara, northeast of Gallipoli, had been converted into a human slaughterhouse. The Bulgarians pillaged and burned the Moslem villages and massacred their inhabitants and now the Turks are wreaking dreadful vengeance on the Christian villages which the Bulgarians spared.

The Turkish government issued strict orders to the officers to avoid reprisals by the troops, but they have been unable to restrain the men.

STEAMERS TO PROTECT SHAMEEN RESIDENTS

Hongkong, July 28.—The British river steamers at Canton have been ordered by the consul to have steam up in readiness if necessary to embark the women and children from the suburb of Shameen, where most of the foreigners reside. There was an abnormal exodus to-day of the better class of Chinese from Canton for Hongkong.

DOUBLE MURDER MYSTERY.

Arcola, Sask., July 28.—A double murder mystery in the Moose Mountains north of here is now engaging the Royal Northwest Mounted Police. Jesse P. Hammond, an old timer in the district, and later of Wynyard, Sask., who is now under sentence of death at Saskatoon, for murder has made partial confession of having shot and killed two men in the mountains during his residence here.

ally or in a business way. Great sympathy will be felt for his family and for his father, thus deprived of his two sons within a year. The late Hubert Watt was treasurer of the Canada Life Assurance Company in Toronto, and his death was the first thing that upset Dr. Watt and eventually led to his regrettable death.

The body lies at the British Columbia Funeral parlors, from which the funeral will take place at a quarter-past two o'clock to-morrow afternoon, and at half-past two there will be a service in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. Dr. Leslie Clay, and interment will be made at Ross Bay cemetery, where Rev. Mr. Hadlow will officiate. There will be no inquest.

Dr. Watt was always a great believer in the future of Victoria and was connected with many of the movements of recent years which were directed toward the advancement of the city and especially of the port. He was one of the promoters of the Victoria Harbor Railway Company, which plans a scheme of railway tracks to connect the new wharves at Ogden Point with the warehouse district.

CANVASS STRIKE VOTE IN SOUTHERN PACIFIC

With Employees.

San Francisco, July 28.—Whether or not a strike shall be declared against the Southern Pacific Company by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and the Order of Railroad Conductors is being decided here to-day by a canvass of the strike vote completed last week, from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian border.

The result probably will not be known for twenty-four or forty-eight hours, and may not be made public then. If the men favor a strike, their verdict will be made the basis of further negotiations with the company. In the event of a deadlock, a strike order would then be issued.

Seattle, July 28.—That Anne Lewis, wife of Fred Lewis, of Skykomish, died last Friday afternoon from a fearful beating administered by her husband eight days before was the testimony offered to a coroner's jury this morning. Deputy Prosecutor Samuel Steele, who conducted the inquest, said he would file information charging Lewis with murder in the second degree.

PHENOMENON IS SEEN IN SKY FROM CHICAGO

Chicago, July 28.—A rare phenomenon, which occurs with the moon but once every fifty years, was visible here for three nights last week when those with good opera glasses were able to make the outlines of a child as held in the arms of the Madonna. The likeness is said to be so vivid that the features, hair and eyes of the image can be made out with the clearness of a photograph. Col. F. H. Buzzacott, a member of the Astronomical Society of America, took several photographs of the view as shown through the ether. "The phenomenon has never been explained by astronomers," he said.

JUDGE NOT OFFENDED WHEN PARROT REPLIES

Chicago, July 28.—Judge Wade, of the Chicago Avenue court, is a bachelor, but that made no difference to him in deciding the ownership of a parrot when "Pretty Polly" sang out, "Hello, papa, how's the baby." There was a case on in the court to decide the ownership of the bird of gaudy plumage. Aside from the bird and the court there were two women interested in the outcome of the case.

ALPINE CLIMBERS ON THEIR ANNUAL CAMP

Many Noted People With Club
in Rockies Including English
Visitors

Edmonton, Alta., July 28.—The Alpine Club camp, four miles north of Lake O'Hara and reached by way of Hector station, C. P. R., broke on Thursday evening. Two hundred attended the club house at Banff, opened the next day. Director A. O. Wheeler and about 60 other members were present on the first day. Friday afternoon and evening he and about twenty-four others from O'Hara camp left Banff, and came to Edmonton. A party of 75 leaving there by special C. N. R. train of four Pullman cars at 9.30 p. m., arrived at Mount Robson station Sunday at 11.30 and was met by Otto Brothers with 45 pack horses to convey dunnage bags, blankets and tents to the first camp across the Fraser, in the valley of Grand Forks, two miles distant.

A splendid view of the rugged defiles of Mount Robson and South Glaciers was had. A bear was seen half a mile from camp last evening. Brilliant weather prevailed, and the campers unpacked and rested preparatory to an early start at sunrise this morning for Main camp, Robson Pass, sixteen miles up Grand Forks, northeast of Berg lake and at an altitude of 5,500 feet. The summit of Mt. Robson is 13,068 feet, and the highest point in the Canadian Rockies. It was first climbed by Rev. Mr. Kinney, of Rossland, and Donald Phillips, the latter a packman following the present camp with ponies.

The party was preceded by the valley early yesterday morning by R. S. Lett, advertising agent of the C. N. R., whose private car stands on the siding at Mountain station. The party is accompanied by Mrs. Lett and Miss Farn, of Philadelphia, well-known authorities on glacial formations and mountains. There is also a moving picture machine to photograph the climbers. The party which left camp this morning numbers about 75, and includes Directors A. O. Wheeler, Secretary M. H. Mitchell, both of Sidney, B. C.; Prof. Fay, of Tufts College, Boston, and honorable member of both English and Canadian Alpine Clubs; Prof. Freeborn, of New York; Haskett Smith, representing the English Alpine Club; Dr. Stone, Prof. Sisson, of Toronto; W. W. Foster, of Victoria; H. H. Prouty, representative of Portland Mountain Club; Dr. Walcott, distinguished geologist and secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, and two Swiss guides, Konrad Kain and Walter Schoofberger. Major Eckford, G. Howard and L. F. Steele, of the English Alpine Club, expected to arrive at the main camp before the end of the week, and also Mr. Mumm, a famous Alpinist. Three newspapers have special representatives and the Associated Press is being supplied with dispatches. About twenty lady members are present in the company.

Forest fires in the district are numerous, and smoke in clouds was seen around the summit last evening. The main camp will break up August 2.

BOTH MILITANTS AND NON-MILITANTS BUSY

Sylvia Pankhurst Arrested
When Heading March for Downing Street

DEEDS, NOT WORDS, SHE SAYS ARE WANTED NOW

Ten Thousand Women for Suffrage by Peaceful Means Assemble at Hyde Park

REASON, NOT FORCE IS MOTTO RAISED BY THEM

London, July 28.—Sylvia Pankhurst, the militant suffragette, who was out on license under the "cat and mouse" law, was the leader of a suffragette demonstration yesterday, which surpassed all previous Sunday afternoon affairs of the sort. In the rioting which followed, Miss Pankhurst was rearrested and taken to Holloway jail. The meeting was held in Trafalgar Square by the men's federation for woman suffrage and the East End branch of the Women's Social and Political Union.

"On to Downing street," proved to be the watchword, and but for vigorous work by the mobilized police, who arrested Miss Pankhurst and twenty men and women supporters, there would have been window-smashing, and perhaps worse damage at Premier Asquith's house. The procession of men and women marched from White-chapel to Trafalgar Square, followed by constantly growing crowds.

Miss Pankhurst made a dramatic appearance from among the crowd, and was dragged to the Nelson column amid great cheering. "The time for speaking is over," she said, "Deeds, not words, are wanted. Let us go to Downing street." She concluded by saying she would defy the authorities, and carry resolutions to the premier's residence herself. In an instant Miss Pankhurst, with a bundle of papers on her arms, was swept off the column by the mob, and the square was a mass of excited and struggling people.

The huge crowd moved down Whitehall toward Downing street. A platoon of police formed a cordon across the road, aided by a blockade of wheeled conveyances. Mounted police then rode into the crowd, scattering it, while officers in plain clothes got possession of Miss Pankhurst after a fist fight with her bodyguard of East End youths.

Miss Pankhurst was driven to Holloway jail to serve the remainder of her sentence or to stay until she is again released through a hunger strike.

Several policemen were badly injured by kicks and blows.

The long pilgrimage to London of non-militant woman suffragettes culminated Saturday night in a meeting at Hyde Park attended by fully 10,000 women.

Headed by banners bearing the motto, "Reason, Not Force," which is the battle cry of the law-abiding National Union of Women's Suffrage Societies, the petticoated battalions, with bands playing and banners flying, swept through the four principal gates of the park and converged at a central point where seventy speakers addressed them from twenty platforms.

At the sound of a bugle a resolution was simultaneously adopted amid scenes of tumultuous enthusiasm, begging parliament, without further delay, to give women the franchise.

The vast concourse of women is believed to constitute a record in any political agitation. It furnished a picturesque and impressive spectacle and drew crowds of sightseers. Among the speakers were Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Mrs. Charlotte Despard and a number of members of the House of Commons.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, made a dramatic appearance this afternoon on the stage of the music hall, where the militants held their weekly meetings. She was seated in an invalid chair and was wrapped in shawls. She looked wan and ill and several nurses were in attendance. The appearance of the militant leader was the signal for a great display of enthusiasm. Her stay was very brief, and she was afterward carried back to the taxicab in which she had arrived without being molested by the police.

Mrs. Pankhurst addressed a few words to the meeting, assuring her audience that victory for the cause was approaching. She then put her prison license up to auction. Bids were forthcoming from all parts of the house, and it was finally knocked down for $500.

Miss Annie Kenney was rearrested outside the hall after a desperate struggle. Mounted police had been summoned to disperse the suffragette sympathizers who fiercely attacked the police.

HAWKINS NINE YEARS IN TORONTO REGIMENT

King's Prize Winner Interested in Rifle Shooting Only During Last Three Years

Toronto, Ont., July 28.—W. A. Hawkins, the winner of the King's prize in a private in a company of the 48th highlanders, and has been a member of the regiment for nine years. He is a Toronto boy and it is only within the last three years that he has taken active interest in rifle shooting. Last year at Ottawa he won the right to a place on the Bliley team. He is about 30 years of age.

When first connected with the regiment Hawkins was in Company H, where he became a sergeant. He was then in the employment of the Hydro-electric company and his work called him out of the city so much that he gave up his rank as sergeant and rejoined the regiment as a private in another company. Since taking up rifle shooting actively Hawkins has won both in the O. R. A. and the D. R. A. matches.

"The regiment will certainly do its best to show how it appreciates the honor he has won and which he reflects upon the corps," said Col. Currie, who was already receiving congratulations from fellow militiamen. "I had a hunch that that boy was going to win," he said, "only a day or two ago Capt. McVittie said to me, 'that boy Hawkins is going to win.'"

"It is a corker though, he is one of our own products. A couple of years ago he was very much discouraged and wanted to give up shooting. He came to me and said he felt that he was spending too much time at it. I coaxed him to keep at it."

CHANNEL TUNNEL IS BROUGHT UP AGAIN

If Americans Ran England Undertaking Would Be Completed Says O'Connor

London, July 28.—"If the Americans were running England," said T. P. O'Connor, M. P., recently, "they would have built the channel tunnel years ago."

In these days of airships and electricity it is scarcely possible to understand the intense opposition which so far has prevented the construction of a subway between England and France. That a tunnel under the 20 miles of sea which separates the two countries could menace the safety of the nation is scarcely comprehensible. Yet this popular feeling has always been strong enough to defeat either powerful governments or strong financial groups when they tried to put the project through. Her lifelong failure to triumph over this public prejudice constitutes a remarkable index to British obstinacy.

Arthur Pells, a member of parliament, points out that a tunnel between France and England would be invaluable to this country in time of war for the distribution of food supplies. The British naval authorities at present demand a force of at least ten cruisers for the protection of trade routes, so as to enable food to enter the country during war times without undue risk. These cruisers would cost $50,000,000, or about half the cost of building the tunnel, while they would deteriorate in value shortly after construction.

But it is not only a matter of safeguarding food supplies that direct rail-road communication with France would be of use during hostilities. Should it ever be necessary to dispatch troops to France or Belgium the operation would be far simpler and more expeditious if a railroad route were available, while it would be necessary to defeat a hostile fleet as a preliminary. From every standpoint a channel tunnel would greatly increase the effectiveness of the British navy by freeing it from convoy and other duties.

SULZER JOINS CAUSE FOR WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE

He Believes Feminine Votes Would Be Just as Honest and Intelligent as Others.

New York, July 28.—Governor Sulzer has put his name to the petition to the United States senate, which is being circulated by the men's league for woman suffrage. The petition urges an amendment to the constitution of the United States extending the right of suffrage to women.

In signing his name to the petition, Governor Sulzer made the following statement to R. Beidle, secretary of the league: "I am now and always have been, and always expect to be in favor of granting women the same political rights that men possess. There should be no abridgment in the United States of the political rights of women just because they are women. In my judgment a woman can vote just as honestly and just as intelligently as a man. I hope the day will come when this view will be expressed in the constitution of our country."

MARSHALL LAYS STONE OF INDUSTRIAL HOME

Vice-President Speaks on Fancied Nobler Pursuits That Do Not Tend Towards Progress.

Aurora, Ill., July 28.—"To many persons who see the sign 'P. C.' in the heavens think it means 'preach Christ,' when it means 'plow corn,'" said Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall yesterday in addressing 20,000 persons who had gathered at Mooseheart, Ill., to attend the laying of the cornerstone for a $5,000,000 industrial school and home for abandoned children and aged. The institution is to be erected by the Loyal Order of Moose.

"Out of the superior educational advantages of to-day," he continued, "one unhappy corollary was developed. A vast army of persons whose labors would make for the industrial advancement of the nation have been cast themselves into for fancied nobler pursuits, and thus the progress they would have made in the work they are fitted for is lost."

SPOKANE PUTS BAN ON THOSE FLIMSY GOWNS

Arrest Promised by Commissioner of Public Safety and Women Warned.

Spokane, Wash., July 28.—Women who saunter about the streets of Spokane clad in flimsy, transparent, silhouette or tango gowns will hereafter do so at risk of arrest, according to the announcement of Commissioner of Public Safety David C. Coates, a Socialist, yesterday. The much-heralded "silhouette gown" appeared yesterday on the streets and created comment.

"If women desire to wear that kind of gown in private that is their business, but when they appear on the streets clad in garments that tend to create comment it is the business of the peace keepers to prevent the display."

"Our wives, mothers and sisters shun such a display. The wearing of such gowns incites licentiousness and makes the duties of the juvenile officers more troublesome."

GOLD DIGGERS' STORY OF SHUSHANNA RUSH

Taylor and Doyle Bring Out Two Hundred Ounces and Give Advice on Camp

Dawson, Y. T., July 28.—Andrew Taylor and Thomas Doyle, who arrived here with 200 ounces of gold, the first brought to Dawson from the new strike at Shushanna, put it on display in the store windows yesterday, causing much excitement. The gold was taken from Discovery claim, on Little Eldorado, in two days with two men shovelling. Doyle obtained $27 to the pan on that claim.

Nineteen claims have been staked on Bonanza Creek. The stakers include Nels Nelson, Billy James, Carl Whitman, Lem Gates, Fred Best, Dud McKinney and Taylor and Doyle. Most of the same party also staked on Little Eldorado and Gold Run. Fred Vane, the emergency recorder, staked on Glacie.

Other good creeks include Johnson, otherwise known as the Chatend, and Chevada (dubbed Wilson after the president), Skookum, Eldorado and Chicken.

Coarse gold and all the pay is four miles above timber line. The diggings are all thawed out and are only four feet deep. They were formed by glaciers cutting the loess. The gold is all coarse like the famous Jack Wade creek gold, and the quality is high. Game fish is plentiful in the creeks.

Taylor, Doyle and Best all warn against entering the country without ample supplies for months. Taylor, known as "White river pathfinder," says no man expecting to work long enough to represent a claim should go in without horses. He believes a big country will be opened, promising to prospectors, especially northward from the strike along the same divide. He says the immediate vicinity of the strike is now all staked.

ELECTRICITY TO RESTORE LIFE IN THOSE DROWNED

Discovery Made by Dr. Eastman in an Experiment With Rodent.

Boston, Mass., July 28.—A discovery which may prove to be of the highest value in the resuscitation of drowned persons has been made by Dr. G. W. Eastman, a Lynn physician and his associate in the former's laboratory. Electrical experiments on a drowned rodent led to a discovery which is considered of prime importance in medical circles. The rodent was placed in water until pronounced drowned by Dr. Eastman and then placed in the field of action of a high-tension, low-frequency current. Soon it began to stir and before long it was on its feet running about.

Physicians do not make any claims as to the efficiency of the apparatus, but want to wait until they have had time to study the effect of this method upon cats, dogs and other animals.

LORD BAGOT AND WIFE ARE NOW RECONCILED

Baltimore, Md., July 28.—After a separation of five years, Lady Bagot, who was Miss Lily May, daughter of an aristocratic Baltimore family, has become reconciled to Lord Bagot, according to a cable received from London. The disagreement which brought about the couple's separation was whether their daughter, Barbara, should be raised in the Catholic faith. The reconciliation was brought about by Mrs. Bernard Shaw, wife of the English dramatist and writer and sister of Lord Bagot.

LAW STUDENT DROWNED BATHING AT WESTPORT

Aberdeen, Wash., July 28.—John P. Raven, 24 years old, of Antio, Wis., a member of the junior class in the University of Washington law school, was drowned while bathing in the Pacific Ocean in front of the lifesaving station at Westport yesterday. F. Wright, aged 25, at the state university, who was with Raven, was saved.

Raven and Wright were caught in a deep hole made by eddying currents and although Raven was a good swimmer, he sank while Wright, who could not swim, managed to keep his head above water until assistance reached him. Raven's body was recovered.

FOUGHT A DRAW.

Vancouver, July 28.—Young Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, who a week ago lost a close 15-round bout to Freddie Welsh here, could do no better than draw with Frank Barrieau, a hard-bitting local lightweight who recently went into professional ranks. The pulling was fast and O'Brien had the lead in the closing rounds although Barrieau hit him hard and often in the earlier stages. Ernie Barrieau beat Willie Darnley of Vancouver in ten rounds. Both of these two fighters were formerly amateur lightweight champions of British Columbia.

HAGUE TRIBUNAL TO HEAR TOLLS DISPUTE

Canadian Government Advised to Prepare Brief of Case at Once

Ottawa, July 28.—That the question of toll exemption on the Panama canal and the discrimination which it would involve against foreign shipping, despite the opposition of a certain section of the Democratic government of the United States, will be submitted to the Hague for arbitration is a matter of definite knowledge at the capital. The British along with Canada's own case will be heard before one of the regular arbitration tribunals in Holland. This is the news conveyed officially to the government here, and it indicates that the same definite assurance has been received from London to that effect.

The Dominion government has received information from the Imperial government to at once set about preparing briefs to be submitted to the arbitration, and also to name commissioners, who will work in concert with the British commissioners.

In handling the general case against the proposed exemption of American vessels passing through the canal, it is expected that the sittings will be held in the early new year and that all Argentine marine countries will be represented.

In the United States the situation is very complex. There are seven arbitrary treaties the ratification of the renewals of which are held up by the United States because of opposition developed by those who took the advanced stand against what was called interference by Britain on the canal.

The plan was to modify the British treaty, on which all others hinged, with a general amendment which would exempt not only the tolls but all canal questions, including armament and defence. It is now considered almost certain that the Senate will fail to do this.

Sir Edward Grey has taken a firm stand as to the interpretation of that particular clause in the Hay-Pauncefote treaty which dealt with the canal, and the United States government, which took the initiative in international arbitration cannot, it is believed, fail to accept the British foreign minister's contention that the matter be referred to the Hague Tribunal.

At The Hague it is expected that a British, a Canadian and a German commissioner will be chosen to sit with the international tribunal, and it is suggested that a choice be made in readiness for the sittings.

COW WITHOUT TAIL TIP NO LONGER PRIZE ONE

Chicago, July 28.—That the tip of a cow's tail is worth $1,200, or, at least, so the owners believe, is revealed in a suit at law which has been started here by Holden Bros., breeders of fancy cattle at Louisville and Cincinnati against the Louisville & Cincinnati Packet Company. The cow is described as a Jersey and the complaint reads that it was shipped from Louisville to Cincinnati on July 6 and that en route to its destination its tail was either pulled off or cut off and makes the animal valueless as a prize-winner.

The loss of her tail, declared the complaint, makes it impossible for the owners to place her on exhibition. The complaint fails to state whether the milk-giving or butter-making possibilities of the cow have been arrested.

THREE CONVICTS BREAK FROM STONY MOUNTAIN

Winnipeg, July 28.—During a heavy electrical storm Saturday afternoon, Sydney Miles, alias Jewell, Hans Polson, alias Peterson and Fred C. Hawkins, serving five, seven and twenty years respectively, escaped from the Stony Mountain penitentiary. Miles and Polson are still at large, but Hawkins only experienced half an hour of liberty, being captured within half a mile of the reserve. The convicts were repairing the roof of Col. Ponsford's house on the prison reserve when the escape was made.

Every guard that can be spared is scouring the country, while Col. Ponsford, accompanied by his two daughters has joined in the search by automobile. The colonel's 14-year-old son has saddled up his pony and joined in the endeavor to locate the jailbreakers.

SEVERAL ACCIDENTS IN THE DAY'S NEWS

Alpine Climbers Fall; Two Drowned in St. Lawrence; Many Train Fatalities

Copenhagen, Denmark, July 27.—A train bearing a large number of emigrants bound for the United States, was derailed to-day near Esbjerg, a seaport on the North Sea and plunged into the river.

Sixteen persons, including M. Sabroe, a member of the Danish parliament were killed.

Many other occupants of the train received serious injuries.

St. Maurice, Switzerland, July 27.—Three Alpine climbers were seen to fall 3,500 feet off the Salieres tower of the Dent du Midi last night. They are believed to have been Frenchmen, who ascended the peak without a guide, despite warnings of danger.

Montreal, Que., July 27.—Two women were drowned in the St. Lawrence river opposite Maisonneuve to-day, when an automobile in which they were sitting ran off the deck of the ferry Southampton.

Mrs. Charles Morrison, 28 years old, of 927 Tupper street, and Mrs. J. S. Cheene, 26 years old, of 44 Bodouin street, St. Henry, were the victims.

Iron Mountain, Mich., July 27.—The engineer, fireman and an unknown man and a boy were killed, one seriously injured and six slightly bruised Saturday night when the Copper Country Limited passenger train on the Milwaukee road from Calumet, Mich., to Chicago, struck a tree which had been blown across the tracks at Cadeau, Wis.

Colburn, Ont., July 27.—Mrs. Perrin of Colburne, was instantly killed and two other women seriously injured in a level crossing collision of a motor car and a light engine.

Toulouse, France, July 27.—M. Chamber, an aviator, was killed to-day near here when a hydro-aeroplane he was driving fell.

Boulder, Colo., July 27.—Twenty-seven passengers were injured, six probably fatally when five coaches of the Denver, Boulder & Western train overturned near Eldora, Colo., to-day. In the five coaches were 125 passengers, mostly tourists from the east, who were viewing the scenery of the Switzerland trail. The train was rounding a curve when the rear coach left the track. The train crew endeavored to replace it and it overturned and carried with it the next four cars.

VOTES FOR WOMEN DO NOT PLEASE ALABAMA

United States Representative Invents Word With Which to Express His Feelings.

Washington, D. C., July 28.—Headquarters of the National Woman Suffrage Association seethed with indignation to-day when officers and members learned that Rep. J. Thomas Heflin of Alabama, their most bitter opponent in congress had fired another broadside into their camp last night from the pulpit of a local church. In addition to criticizing the cause in vigorous terms, Mr. Heflin gave his definition of suffragists and their male supporters as follows: "Suffragettes—unmarried female fanatics; Suffragettes—unhappy, discontented women; Suffragettes—the male suffragette, a feeble-minded, soft-footed creature."

Mr. Heflin explained to-day that the word suffrotec was his own.

LEAVES MONEY FOR HOME FOR UNMARRIED WOMEN

York, Pa., July 28.—If provisions of the will of Miss Anna L. Gardner are successfully carried out, York will have a home for "old maids." Miss Gardner died a week ago and left an estate valued at $400,000. In her will she provides for the erection, at a cost of $150,000 of a home for unmarried women of good character and habits, in the state of Pennsylvania, and not more than 50 in number. The business of support may not be sufficient to maintain themselves in the comfort and refinement which they were accustomed to enjoy.

According to the will it will not be an asylum for paupers, nor insane, nor a retreat for vicious nor a haven for those afflicted with contagious or infectious diseases.

INTELLIGENT LIONESS THANKS BENEFACTOR.

Chicago, July 28.—A lioness yesterday showed extraordinary intelligence when it caressed its keeper after a painful operation following the lancing of an ulcerated tooth after the showman, its owner, had offered some fancy prices for veterinary surgeons. The lioness was frantic with pain and its discomfiture sending the doctors in wild haste from even the strong iron bars within which it was held.

Holding the beast's mouth open by force the keeper, Thomas Hargreaves, lanced the gum. The lioness began to purr and insisted on holding its face close to that of its keeper and licked his hands.

MONROE DOCTRINE BEFORE CONGRESS

Representative Clark's Resolution Goes to Foreign Affairs Committee.

Washington, D. C., July 28.—Representative Clark, of Florida, has introduced a concurrent resolution affirming the Monroe Doctrine. It was referred to the foreign affairs committee, and was directed particularly against people with whom the Caucasian cannot and will not assimilate.

"We hereby reaffirm what is known as the Monroe Doctrine in each and every essential," the resolution read, "and declare our unflinching allegiance thereto."

"In reaffirming the Monroe Doctrine," concluded the resolution, "we do so with the earnest desire to maintain peace and friendly relations with every nation on earth, but we cannot permit the further extension of any colonization systems of European nations on any territory of this hemisphere, and particularly shall we object to such colonization by peoples with whom the Caucasian cannot and will not assimilate."

BEE SWARM ROOM IN CHICAGO AVENUE HOTEL

Chicago, July 28.—"Sting proof" beds are the latest in the other one-third of the day where weary man should rest. This innovation has been forced upon the Monnet hotel, 1334 Chicago avenue, because of bees which have taken possession of the hotel, much to the annoyance of the guests. The bees took up their abode between the walls after having strayed from their own hive, and buzzed around the heads of all within reach. A travelling man named David Hanson tried to "shoo" them out of his room. There was a battle and Hanson got stung. The bees could not be dislodged in spite of hives filled with tempting honey placed before them after their successful invasion of Hanson's room. They could not be smoked out and the proprietors of the hotel were forced to put up nettles on all beds before their guests consented to take a chance of slumber at the Monnet.

DR. WATT'S DEATH.

In the course of its career as a newspaper the Times has seldom had a more painful duty to perform than announce the death of A. T. Watt, M. D., Superintendent of Quarantine at William Head station. The doctor was a most painstaking, conscientious and efficient officer. His devotion to duty was believed by some of his brethren of the profession to be extreme, if such a thing could be considered possible in a man occupying such a position. Under his supervision the portals of Canada on the Pacific were vigilantly guarded against the incursions of infectious disease. But the doctor was sensitive to a degree, as every one who enjoyed his acquaintance and was honored with his confidence knows. The painstaking performance of his duty brought him into conflict with a few whose temporary inconvenience he considered subordinate to the health of the general community. It is a matter of record that an investigation was held which brought forth probably the most puerile complaints ever lodged against a man holding a public position. There is no manner of doubt that in the face of the evidence the report of the commissioner will confirm the belief of the public in the absolute honor, honesty and integrity of Dr. Watt. But the victim was an extremely sensitive, retiring man. The persecution—for it was nothing else—worried him. Even to be charged with anything that reflected upon his personal integrity weighed upon his mind to such an extent as to deprive him of his natural rest. A terrible responsibility, therefore, rests upon the chief instrument of and the spoliemen behind him in the persecution. For Mrs. Watt and her young son and the late doctor's aged father we express our sincere sympathy.

THE REAL SLUR.

"Canada cannot and will not remain in the position in which it has been placed. This measure has only been postponed, and we look forward to an early date to removing the slur of not having at the present time done that which it is clearly our duty to do." Mr. Hazen at Ganges.

Mr. Hazen is mistaken. It is no slur on Canada that the Senate should demand that the government ask the people of this country if they are willing that thirty-five million dollars should be sent abroad for the construction of ships over which they will have no control. That is what Mr. Borden promised he would do if parliament would not pass his proposal. Why does he not do so? Perhaps Sir Richard, who described the opponents of the contribution idea as a small section of the country, will be able to explain. Mr. Borden dare not consult the people either in an election or in the form of a plebiscite, because he knows they are opposed to making a contribution.

We will tell Mr. Hazen where the slur on Canada lies. It is in the following:

"There have been proposals to which I shall no more than allude, that we should build up a great naval organization in Canada. In my humble opinion, nothing of an efficient character could be built up in this country within a quarter of a century half a century."—R. L. Borden, House of Commons, December 5, 1912.

This was the keynote of the disgraceful campaign of disparagement of the Canadian people by men and journals who call themselves Canadians. We were told we could not build ships, we could not man them; our young men were not patriotic enough; we would probably graft; we should not be trusted with a navy, for we would separate from the empire, and other similar slanders. The men engaged in that campaign are the people who slurred and shamed Canada, and conspicuous among them is Honorable James Douglas Hazen. If this minister and his friends will take their lesson from Australia, instead of from New Zealand, a dominion infinitely smaller, they will do something to erase the slur which they have gratuitously cast upon Canada.

PITY THE POOR CAPTAIN.

Our sincere sympathy goes out to the gallant captain of the New Zealand. A "dave" batt. would have been a picnic in comparison with what he has had to go through. He has been addressed and banqueted almost into nervous prostration, and we wonder just how long his vigorous constitution will be able to stand it. On Friday afternoon he heard an address on the ship, made a formal call on our chief dignitaries, attended a banquet and wound up with a reception. On Saturday he received in quick succession the Lieutenant-Governor, who came in one launch; Hon. J. D. Hazen, who followed in another, and Sir Richard McBride and Dr. Young, who drew alongside in a third. Shortly afterwards Mayor Forley and Alderman Gleason appeared in a fourth.

In the afternoon he was deluged with addresses. The Victoria-Esquamalt Navy League, the Federated Leagues, the Overseas Club and the Navy League Daughters of the Empire one after another mercilessly bombarded him. No sooner would one be disposed of and the captain with a sigh he could not conceal glance furtively and longingly in the direction of the city of whose charms he had heard so much, than another roll would be unrolled and read. Once, we are informed, under the impression that these ceremonies were at an end, he retired to his cabin to change from his naval uniform to street clothes, but, alas, he was quickly disillusioned and drawn from his retreat to be confronted with another scroll. We doubt not that the ever-recurring vision which disturbs his slumbers is that of a gentleman in high hat and frock coat holding in his hands an ill-named address. And now, we presume, he is running the gauntlet in Vancouver. Let us hope the captain and his officers have heard the last address at this port and that they will be permitted to enjoy the selves as rational human beings when the ship returns next week. Give them a chance. Don't smother them with Imperialism. The country owes them that much.

DINNERS AND POLITICS.

The Times is informed that the dinner given in honor of Captain Halsey and the officers of the New Zealand was "defiled" by the introduction of party politics into the after-dinner orations of some of the speakers. We do not know why "party politics" should defile any occasion, accepting politics as the science of government. But the status to which party politics has been reduced in this province, as we all know and even honest Conservatives admit, is not scientific at all except as science applies to the manipulation of every tangible resource of the province for the benefit of partisans. But these facts being merely local in their manifestation, Captain Halsey could hardly be expected to appreciate the situation, and hence he probably did not consider there was any lack of good taste in the eulogies of Sir Richard McBride that fell from the lips of the diners. There is undoubtedly method in the manners of those who take advantage of every opportunity of singing into the face of our distinguished premier that "he is a jolly good fellow." What is the use of laying questions of good taste before such a following?

VOYAGE OF THE QUADRA.

The strictly formal government steamer Quadra was transformed into a Tory picnic barge on Saturday. For the time she was Minister Hazen's private yacht, conveying an aggregation of party politicians, distinguished and extinguished, to the annual outdoor festivities of the Vancouver Conservative Association at Ganges Harbor. Now ordinarily the Quadra is our most exclusive vessel. She is used to carry supplies to lighthouses and in the installation of aids to navigation. The average citizen who digs up the taxes which go towards her maintenance is not permitted to travel on her. Press representatives were not allowed aboard of her when she went out to meet the New Zealand, so exclusively official was she.

On Saturday, however, the divinity that doth hedge a government vessel was enjoying a holiday. The Quadra was forbiddingly formal only to those who did not wear the party colors. At the public expense she carried a crowd of party politicians to a partisan gathering. We do not know whether she conveyed any aids to navigation to the picnic. They may have been required. We can be sure that she carried supplies—but not for lighthouses. But what puzzles us is that the minister did not do the thing with more pomp and ceremony. He should have commanded the fishery protection boats Newington and Jolliffe, the chartered lighthouse tender Leebro, and the dredges Ajax and Mud Lark.

What an impressive spectacle it would have been—the Quadra with the Minister, Sir Richard and party aboard, escorted by those other craft, all radiantly decorated with the party colors and laden with true-blue members of the organization—with supplies and the necessary aids—all majestically ploughing the waters of the Gulf towards the Tory picnic grounds! It would have been a never-to-be forgotten nautical pageant, strikingly suggestive of the stately progress of the Roman emperors as they visited the capitals of their vassal states which bordered the classic Mediterranean. Instead, the Minister cloaked his movements under the impression that he was going to inspect the fish-traps at Sooke. He discloses a fatal lack of imagination. Even if he was unable to grasp the full possibilities of the situation he might, at least, have taken one of the dredges with him with Harry Price, in a borrowed uniform, in command.

A CUMBERSOME MACHINE.

The turtle is a flying machine compared with the United States Congress as a business-doing institution. Look at the time the two branches of the house have been discussing the tariff, and they do not expect to have the bill ready for the signature of the president until some time in September. If we had such a lethargic parliament in any part of the British dominions, our belief is that the people would rise up and smite it, or puncture it, or at least do something to rouse it and let it know its first duty was to the public at large and not to the "interests" which unquestionably by their influence in the lobbies and other places are retarding progress. Therein we have an example of one of the evils of setting up by legislative enactment an institution whose interests are almost wholly antagonistic to the interests of the masses of the people. Because just as soon as Congress seriously purposes granting even a measure of partial freedom from privately levied taxation, the privileged classes act as one man in opposing by every means in their power, legitimate or illegitimate, clean or corrupt (having unlimited resources) to block the wheels of the legislative machine, and if necessary to throw it off the track. While the lobby is being carried on in behalf of the protected section of the community, the great unorganized and unrepresented masses have no organization to conduct their side of the case. To be sure the force of public opinion weighs on the minds of Congressmen to some extent. If it were not for the overwhelming effect of the last presidential election and the persistent efforts of the president, there would not be even a prospect of some relief from the exactions of the wealthy and influential beneficiaries of protection. The ordinary people would be exhorted to turn their attention away from the alleged exactions of the privilege few who were fattening upon them and to consider how much better off they were after all than the downtrodden masses in the effete monarchies of Europe.

The legislative machine rumbles through its work at a snail's pace; but this time there is a prospect that it will accomplish some real tariff reforms, and they are but the entering edge of the wedge. The people have gained a partial victory; they will not rest content until it is complete.

Come to think of it, was there not a third Canadian minister with Mr. Borden and Mr. Hazen when they interviewed the admiralty last summer? The Minister of Marine did not mention his name Saturday, but we will supply the deficiency. It was none other than Honorable Louis Philippe Pelletier, the Nationalist Postmaster-General, who is now telling his constituents that Mr. Borden is carrying out his "pledge" that Canadian manhood will not be permitted to play any part in Imperial defence. Borden, Imperialist, Pelletier, Nationalist; Hazen, Imperialist. As Sir Wilfrid would say, "What a salad!"

In 1909 Sir Richard wanted a Canadian navy. In 1912 he moved a resolution urging the Dominion government to provide immediate naval protection for the Pacific coast. At the Revelstoke convention last fall he expressed the same view in his address. Now he favors a policy of contributions. He is no longer concerned with the protection of the Pacific. Well, which is it? Was he sincere before or is he only sincere now? Has he played with this question as he played with that of Asiatic immigration?

Our contemporary has professed to favor a Canadian navy, and yet it has not uttered one word of advice to the Minister of Marine along this line. Why so backward, neighbor?

Every time a vacancy occurs in the Senate these days the entire Tory party from ocean to ocean goes down on its knees and sings the Doxology.

MUSIC ON GRAVESTONE.

London Chronicle.

A memorial stone of remarkable interest has been erected at Kensal Green cemetery over the grave of the late Mr. Samuel Coleridge-Taylor, the young Anglo-African composer and conductor, whose chief work was "Hiawatha." At the head in the draped figure of an angel with outspread wings beneath a spray of laurels, carved in Carrara marble.

The inscription, for which Mr. Alfred Noyes is responsible, runs: In memory of Samuel Coleridge-Taylor, who died on September 1, 1912, at the age of 37, bequeathing to the world a heritage of an undying beauty. His music lives. It was his own, and drawn from vital fountains.

Sleep, crowned with fame, fearless of change or time.
Sleep, like remembered music in the soul,
Silent, immortal; while our discords climb
To that great chord which shall resolve the whole.

Silent, with Mozart, on that solemn shore;
Secure, where neither waves nor hearts can break;
Sleep, till the Master of the world once more
Touch the remembered strings and bid thee wake.
Touch the remembered strings and bid thee wake.

Here follows a stave with four bars of "Hiawatha" music, accompanied by the words, "Thus departed Hiawatha, Hiawatha the beloved."

ALL THE NEWS COMBINED.

From the New York Post.

Sam Polk was editor of the Polktown Clarion, in Tennessee. Horatio F. Johnson, as befitted his name, was running for public office. Sam said some things about Horatio in his paper, and Horatio announced in the Court House square that he intended to go down to the Clarion office and end the earthly existence of the mud-splutter coward who wrote it. These things were reported to Sam. He went down to his office to compose a fitting reply.

"That scoundrel and miscreant, Horatio F. Johnson," he wrote, "announces that he will cease the business of degrading public office by putting himself up as candidate long enough to come down to the Clarion office and ram this sheet down our throats. He will also leave a widow and four children."

CONTINENTAL BRITISH CAPITAL

(Toronto Star.)
British capital, we are told, is sentimental. Quite true. That is why it goes anywhere in the world where the scenery is sound and the interest sure. It probably feels sentimental toward Canada, because we have always paid well and there has been no trouble collecting. That is enough to warn any creditor toward the object of solicitude. Capital, British or otherwise, will always adore with passion tender the country that returns its affection with interest. In this way, and in this way alone, is British capital, or any other capital, sentimental. It does on us so to speak, so long as we have the price. Its love is anywhere from four per cent sentimental up.

UNITED STATES

CAPTURES THE CUP

McLoughlin Won From Dixon
In Deciding Set To-day in Straight Sets

Wimbledon, Eng., July 28.—The United States lawn tennis team participated off the world's championship trophy to-day when Maurice E. McLoughlin, of California, won the fourth and deciding match in the contest with England for the Davis international trophy. McLoughlin, the American national champion, was drawn against Charles P. Dixon and won in straight sets, 8-6, 6-3, 6-2.

The first set was hard-fought but Dixon was in the lead only once. As soon as McLoughlin steadied down to his task he had the Englishman at his mercy. The second and third sets were easy for the brilliant American, who was playing at the top of his game. There was an immense crowd in the stands. Summer skies and a high temperature greeted the players. These conditions suited the American competitors better than the weather prevailing during the preceding two days. McLoughlin especially profited by the heat.

Dixon had shown considerable confidence before the game started, declaring in characteristic slang: "I am going after McLoughlin bald-headed." The Americans took a complete rest yesterday. They indulged in light limbering up practice on the courts in the morning.

The United States lost the Davis cup to England in 1903. Australia took it away from England in 1907. It remained in Australia until 1912, when it was won by England which has now lost it to the United States. The preliminary contest this year was participated in by seven nations—Canada, the United States, Australia, South Africa, Germany, France and Belgium. The United States team fought its way through to the final round.

FAMOUS RING

STARS IN CITY

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien and Harry Pollock headed an invasion of the Capital yesterday, the party including Philadelphia Jack, Jr., and several other ring notables. The party arrived on the afternoon boat from Vancouver and proceeded to the Empress. They made a tour of the city in Morris Condon's auto, and to-day will be taken over the Malahat drive, leaving this afternoon for Seattle. Mr. Pollock is the well-known manager of Madison Square Garden, New York City, and is at present handling Freddie Welsh, while the O'Brien brothers are the famous Philadelphia boxers, who are known as the cleverest, milt artists who ever stepped between the ropes.

An effort will be made to have Welsh and Bayley give an exhibition of their skill over the four-round route in the Capital during Carnival Week. It is also possible that Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, Jr., will allow some of his marvellous speed in the Capital, while he is on the coast.

SPOKANE GETS ONE
GAME FROM CHAMPS

Seattle, Wn., July 28.—Seattle and Spokane broke even in yesterday's double header, Spokane winning the first game, seven to four and Seattle the second two to nothing. Bunched hits in the last three innings gave Spokane the first game. Dell was relieved by Fullerton after the seventh inning but the visitors' batting rally could not be stopped. In the second game Reardon pitched shutout ball for Seattle. The locals won the game in the sixth when Jackson knocked a homerun with Fullerton on base. The second game was called at the first half of the seventh to permit the teams to catch a train for Spokane.

THE SELFISH PASSENGER.

The Bala-Geneva express (says the Standard Geneva correspondent) was overcrowded the other day and several travellers had to stand in the corridors of the second-class coaches.

One tourist saw a seat vacant, but covered with luggage, and asked a passenger sitting near whether the seat was "occupied." "Yes," replied the stranger, "the man is in the restaurant wagon, and will return soon."

There the matter ended until the express reached Lausanne, when the owner of all the luggage prepared to get out.

"Pardon me," said the tourist, "that luggage does not belong to you," and called the guard. The latter sided with the tourist, and the whole matter was placed before the stationmaster. The selfish traveller had to prove, piece by piece, that the luggage on the seat belonged to him, and he finally was obliged to pay for two second-class tickets.

READY FOR ISAAC.

Here is a story told by the Rev. Dr. Hastings, of Aberdeen, and reproduced in the "British Weekly."

When in Cambridge, Bishop Ryle, the present Dean of Westminster, undertook to handle in Dr. Hastings' Dictionary of the Bible some of the proper names in Genesis. One of them was a little late, and Dr. Ryle sent his editor a wire when it was ready.

Now, it was not an unusual thing in those days for some college friend to arrive with little or no notice at the manse, and be greeted by his Christian name.

On the day on which Dr. Ryle's wire was received I was from home. Returning at night, I found active preparations for a coming guest, and, on inquiry, was shown the wire.

ROMANCE OF MARQUIS AND A RICH WIDOW

Lord Hertford's Engagement to Mrs. Mosscockle is Ended; Formerly Earl of Yarmouth

It is by no means an uninteresting coincidence that the announcement of the breaking off of Lord Hertford's engagement is made when the great Scott will case is in progress, says Lloyd's Weekly. The wealth which is there at stake was, at least in a large part, originally the property of a former Lord Hertford.

Lord Hertford, who was formerly well-known as the Earl of Yarmouth, had been engaged to Mrs. Mosscockle, the widow of Mr. Charles Mosscockle, a solicitor, who left about £25,000 when he died in 1904. The engagement was announced only last May, and it was stated shortly afterwards that the marriage would take place in June. Then there came an announcement that the marriage would not take place so soon; and, lastly, on Thursday, the following appeared:

The marriage arranged between the Marquis of Hertford and Mrs. Mosscockle will not take place.

Lord Hertford, when Earl of Yarmouth, was married in 1903 to Miss Alice Thaw, daughter of Mr. W. T. Thaw, of Pittsburgh, U. S. A. The marriage was annulled five years later, on the wife's petition. His lordship has played many parts. He has been soldier, actor, journalist, sheep farmer, dog breeder, wine agent, and poultry fancier. His first appearance in public was made at Perth in 1882, when he organized a charity performance, and took the place of a young lady who failed to appear. He then gave a skit dance with great success.

Later he went on the stage professionally first of all in the United States; and then at Hobart, Tasmania. He made a great impression with his singing, acting, and skit dancing. He wrote and composed a play, "The Pigeon House," produced it himself, and as "Eric Hope" played the leading part.

The money involved in the Scott will case now being fought in the courts was once the property of the fourth Marquis of Hertford, who died a bachelor, and left everything in his power to the late Sir Richard Wallace.

It was thought not improbable that Sir Richard, when he died, might leave some of his wealth to the Hertford family; but he did not do so, and the marvellous Wallace collection, at Hertford House, is now the property of the nation.

Mrs. Mosscockle is a lady well-known in society. Before her marriage in 1883 she was Miss Harriet Sparrow. She has a town house in Hertford street—another coincidence—and a fine country place at Clewer Park, Berkshire. She takes a deep interest in music, and is frequently present at the opera.

Her picture, painted with a Japanese panel on her lap, was seen at the Royal Academy a few years ago.

Among the Vancouver men registered at the Dominion hotel are Henry H. Robinson and D. A. Davis.

H. W. Davis, of Winnipeg, arrived in town yesterday from the East and is staying at the Dominion hotel.

C. H. Gillis, of Vancouver, came over from the mainland yesterday, and registered at the Westholme hotel.

L. S. Eaton is visiting the capital for a short time from Vancouver, and is staying at the Westholme hotel.

S. L. Billings, Mrs. Billings and their daughter registered at the Dominion hotel from Salt Lake City yesterday.

Henry R. Moodie and Stanley F. Moodie have arrived here from Vancouver, and are staying at the Empress hotel.

WISH SCHEMES OF PUBLICITY TO STOP

Those at Mass Meeting on Unemployment Pass Resolution; Object to Subsidies

Under the shadow of three oaks in North Ward park yesterday afternoon between 300 and 400 persons heard the speakers in an unemployment demonstration. Among those present were several members of the executive of the British Columbia Federation of Labor, which was in session in the city.

The president, Christian Sivertz, presided over the gathering, and the speakers from the federation were Vice-Presidents J. Kavanagh, Vancouver; James Cuthbertson, of Greenwood; J. W. Gray, of Fernie; A. Watchman, of Vancouver, and Victor St. Midgley, the secretary.

Others who spoke were F. J. Perrot, president of the Victoria Trades and Labor Council; J. L. Martin, of the Laborers' Protective Union; Mrs. Baker, George Turner and George Oliver, Parker Williams, M. P. E., had a warm reception in discussing the causes which have led to the present stringency, and his criticism of the McBride government for diverting the resources of the province into private channels was warmly cheered.

Mr. Williams referred to the conditions which had created the present stringency, and declared that so much subsidization had been made to the great railway companies that the capital of the country had become collected in a few hands. The government did not show a desire to assist the municipalities, which were the worst affected by the impossibility of carrying on new work.

He asked why it was that great sums of money could be found for the provincial university while the government would not come to the help of the school boards, which were borrowing money at excessive rates of interest in order to keep the schools open, the only schools, he might remind his hearers, at which their children would ever have the advantage of an education.

He quoted some figures to show that while living was cheaper on the American side, the average of wages was about $40 more than on the Canadian side per annum. It was not remarkable, he declared, that there had been a considerable movement of men back to the American side recently. While conditions were prosperous this government had taken every credit to itself, and it certainly must face the music when the circumstances altered. The government showed no inclination to meet the situation by helping the public bodies to commence work. If these conditions of unemployment prevailed in the middle of summer, what would they be in winter?

Mr. Midgley said unemployment in this province dated from six years ago. He had first spoken in public at a meeting of unemployed in British Columbia at Vancouver in 1907. Since that time the situation had become more acute each winter, but for the first time the people were face to face with a serious situation in the summer months. The immigration policies were attracting far more men than could be absorbed by the industries of the country, and the future was black for the working classes.

The mining members of the executive, Messrs. Cuthbertson and Grey, both spoke of the labor situation in the Boundary and Crow's Nest country, and of the effect of the pinch upon the metalliferous mining districts.

The following resolution was submitted to the meeting, and carried: Whereas the working people of this city and province are suffering from want of the necessities of life as a result of lack of employment; and Whereas the chief causes responsible for the said lack of employment are (a) the various immigration systems and publicity schemes encouraged or sanctioned by the authorities, (b) the private control of natural resources and the means of production, which control permits production to proceed only at and for profit to the owner.

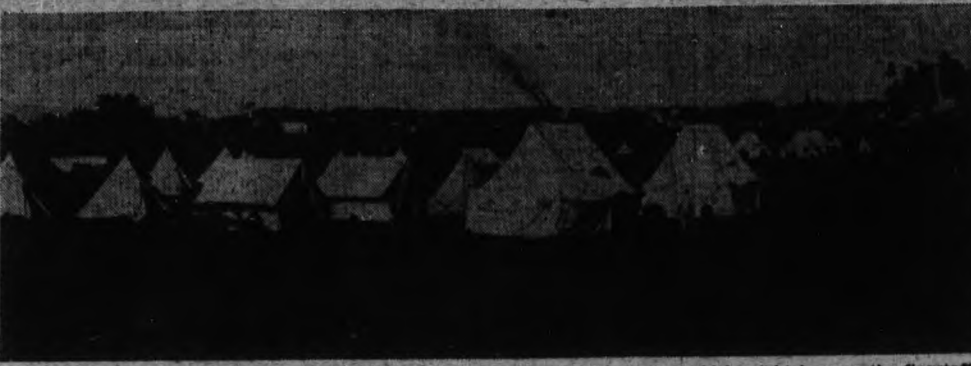

Therefore be it resolved that this gathering of workers and citizens protest against the immigration system and publicity schemes in all their details as now carried on and supported by the municipal, provincial and federal governments; and demands that all subsidies to immigration and publicity schemes be abandoned forthwith.

And be it further resolved that in the opinion of this meeting legislation should be passed that would empower the said municipal, provincial and federal authorities to assume control of and operate industries, or any of them, within their respective jurisdictions, when, by so doing, above recited conditions of the working people would be remedied or avoided; also that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Trades and Labor Council for endorsement, with the request that such endorsed copy be forwarded to the above-mentioned authorities, as well as to the British Columbia Federation of Labor and to the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

"STANDS FOR A WHITE CANADA."

To the Editor:—"I stand for a white Canada!" These were the words I once heard both Mr. Barnard and our Premier say, and it was on those words I once voted for them. Have they kept their promise to the white wage earners, of whom I am one, and in whose interest I write this letter? We now find more Asiatics employed in the industries of this province than ever was known before, to the exclusion of white workers. We will first take the Cumberland mines, which are owned by the heavily subsidized Canadian Northern railway, which some people are mean enough to say is only an adjunct of the mighty C. P. R., employing large numbers. Mr. Parker Williams, M. P. E., writes me as follows: "China and Japan at Cumberland is guarded day and night by special police provided by Mr. Bowser's department, to prevent inquisitive people obtaining any information. All we know is that the number is probably double that employed 12 months ago, digging coal. Is this standing for a white Canada? When we have to pay $7.50 a ton for coal that is dug out of the earth by Chinamen for 50¢? Then there is the whaling industries (Canadian Northern also) Chinamen and Japs handling the peoples whales that the owners may obtain large dividends. This is only two cases out of numerous others. Now the beauty of it all is this, there is the sum of $500 paid for each Chinaman landing. This money does not come from China, but is advanced by someone here. They say by the wealthy China companies. The province gets half and the Dominion the other half, which is in turn handed back to the Canadian Northern in the shape of subsidies. It practically makes the Chinamen slaves, which is in direct contravention of the laws of the province. Who are the law-breakers? Mr. Editor, was ever such a high vaulting railroad policy known of before in the annals of history? Will Sir Richard have his head at the Conservative picnic under God's clear blue sky and tell the workmen, should any be there, that he still stands for a white Canada in the face of these facts?

Sir Richard, I regret to say, you have not kept your promise to the workmen, who largely supported you on your promise. Your legislation is a little too much one-sided, and the sun of your glory is now about to set. But you can console yourself with the reflection that you will not be the first able statesman whose ship of state was wrecked on the same dangerous reef. HERBERT PHIPPS, Victoria, July 26, 1913.

HAVE YOUR BREAD WRAPPED.

To the Editor: My attention was recently directed to a fellow who was piling a number of loaves of bread on the step of his cart, which is perhaps never washed but often expectorated on. He then placed a dirty looking old sack on the road and piled the bread into it from the step with his bare hands, which no doubt often do duty at killing flies on his horse and grooming him generally.

I recently saw another fellow with a large armful of loaves leaning against a coat and sleeve which if soaked in benzine and rined in Florida water would be freshened very much. People of good taste would not accept other delicacies handled in this manner, and while meat and fruit can be washed it is a difficult matter to wash bread. I think the public should insist on their bread being delivered by sanitary methods and are deserving of some redress from the city in this line.

WILL CLOSE THURSDAY

Tenders For Much Material for Sooko Waterworks Will be Completed.

Thursday will see the close of the tenders for a large quantity of material for Sooko waterworks, for on that day the sub-tenders, which it is felt desirable should be let by contract, representing almost every class of work in connection with this large undertaking, will be received by the water commissioner.

Then it will be possible to break away from the policy of marking time. Some real work will now be undertaken, for which the portion so far done since the city took over the contract has been merely a preliminary.

Most important of the contracts now called for are the two tenders for the concrete flow line and the steel pressure pipe line into the city. Representing some 35 miles in all, it is hoped that when the tenders are opened they will be from firms having a determination to rush the work through.

There are also tenders due on that date for the telephone connection between Humphreys and Sooko Lake, which is to expedite communications between the several parts of the undertaking; for the trestles, and other necessities for the work. The contractor who secures the flow line will have an opportunity to make use of the plant at Cooper's Cove, Sooko harbor, placed there by the former contractors. Negotiations are pending for a supply of local gravel to be used for the materials for concrete. At Thetis Cove, Esquimalt harbor, is the abandoned plant for the steel pressure pipe construction, the future of which will also be determined at the same time.

TO CONSIDER SALARIES

Committee Expected to Report to City Council This Evening on Proposed Readjustment.

Among the subjects which will engage the attention of the city council this evening will be that of the city salaries. Alderman McNeill had referred to the finance committee of the city council the whole question of the readjustment of salaries, and from various reasons there have been delays since that time until the present. With the return of Alderman Gleason from the East the subject has been taken up, and at the last meeting of the council the alderman assured Alderman Meston that the report would be ready for this meeting.

Meanwhile a sum of $5000 has been set aside for the purpose of raising the salaries to an equal standard in cases in which there is manifest unfairness in the present schedule. This is the allowance which was voted on the original passage of the estimates but reduced when the revision was subsequently made by the members of the council. That there are serious inequalities has never been questioned, men doing practically the same work are paid at different rates of remuneration.

H. M. B. New Zealand Completes First Visit to Victoria; Returns Next Sunday.

Completing her first visit to Victoria, H. M. B. New Zealand left yesterday at an early hour for Burrard Inlet. She will bunker from the Glenarney before being open to visitors at Vancouver. As soon as Mayor Baxter and Deputy Mayor Leckie have called, the vessel will be closed till Wednesday.

A number of functions have been arranged, including luncheons, sports, visits to the colony farm and to New Westminster and the Fraser Mills, the largest on the coast. She will return to Victoria on Sunday next.

The New Zealand was visited by a number of parties on Saturday. The formal receptions delayed from the previous day were carried through, and Capt. Halsey received a number of addresses from patriotic societies.

President W. H. Langley presented the address for the Victoria-Esquimalt branch of the Navy League; William Blakemore, for the Federated Navy League of British Columbia, and also for the Overseas Club. Mrs. Roper, and lady regents of the Navy League Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire presented the address of that chapter. Captain Halsey made a brief speech in reply.

NEWS OF PROVINCIAL TOWNS

KELOWNA

George Bury, vice-president of the C. P. R., stood apparently deep in thought on the pier at Kelowna, his attention being rivetted upon the unloading of many truck loads of beef and dairy produce. There was something more than idle curiosity in his observation. A casual bystander might easily have discerned that his thoughts did not run along pleasant lines notwithstanding the bright sunshine of the afternoon.

Turning to a newspaper man he remarked with no little emphasis: "There you are, thousands of dollars going out of the district, month in and month out, for produce which ought to be raised in the district itself. When are the people of the Okanagan going to take their blinkers off and secure this revenue for themselves? Cattle raising, poultry and hogs would yield a handsome profit. Look at that butter," he said, "shipped from New Zealand. Think of it for a moment; bringing dairy produce thousands of miles to what ought to be one of the best dairying districts in the whole province! Worse than 'carrying coals to Newcastle.' The finest fruit, it is admitted, can be grown in the valley," he continued. "Its soil is remarkable for its productivity, but why not combine with fruit-growing the great sources of revenue from mixed farming?"

Before leaving Kelowna Mr. Bury paid a visit to the new Board of Trade building and expressed himself pleased with the attractive premises that have been erected by this energetic board. It will be remembered that the C.P.R., acting in a magnanimous spirit, gave a lease of the land for the building at a nominal rental, and it is now the busy centre of the city's publicity operations.

The remarkable growth of Kelowna during recent years is exemplified by the following official figures just compiled. The outward freight for last year amounted to $92,182.56, as compared with $49,481.77 the previous year, showing an increase of $42,700.79, or 86 per cent. The inward freight in 1911 was $122,732.28, compared with $191,740.28 last year, an increase of $59,008, or 44 per cent. While the passenger traffic for 1911 amounted to $58,974.20, as against $64,335.01 last year. For the first six months this year the building permits show an increase of 14 per cent, compared with the corresponding period of last year.

NEW WESTMINSTER

In less than two hours after he was sentenced in the Assize court on Thursday afternoon, John Macnamara was on his way to the penitentiary in Sapperton with six other prisoners to commence his long sentence for the theft of a trap for the automobile. There he exchanged his neat-fitting black suit for a striped suit of coarse texture and rather loud combination of colors. With his hair trimmed he looked quite a different man from the one who smoked expensive cigars and joked with the city police and the Pinkertons when first brought to this city for his preliminary hearing.

Not until just at the last did Macnamara become a convict. While in the provincial jail and all through his trial he treated his guards courteously and received in return many little considerations from them. When the doors of the prison loomed large before him on Thursday, however, the veneer of his manner fell away, and he proved quite a different man to handle. He did not cause any serious trouble, however. With him on the trip to the penitentiary was the Indian outlaw, Moses Paul, who was being taken out to serve a life sentence for being accessory after the fact of the murder of Provincial Constable Kindness near Clinton, B. C. The others sentenced on Thursday were also in the party.

But Macnamara still looks forward to an early release. The court stenographer is hard at work transcribing his shorthand notes of the evidences in the case. There are over 1,000 folios of it, and transcribing will take some time. As soon as this is completed it is understood that counsel for the defence will apply for Macnamara's release on a writ of habeas corpus. This will probably be argued before a supreme court judge on a date to be set. The application will be made on the ground that Macnamara was convicted and sentenced for an offence for which he was not and could not be extradited, that of common theft, and that he should be accordingly liberated. Many eminent counsel are of the opinion that the application may succeed. If this should fail an appeal will be taken to the court of appeals, and argued some time in the autumn.

NELSON

With the object of demonstrating the good qualities and increasing the popularity of British Columbia fruit, the directors of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, at a meeting in the city hall last week appointed a committee to lay plans for an advertising campaign on the prairies and at the coast. W. C. Richards, of Vernon, is chairman of the committee. The other members are F. B. Nicholson, of Salmon Arm, and W. S. Fogg, of Vernon.

That the limit of 11 lbs. per package imposed by the Parcel Post Act at the last session of the Dominion House is too low and that both fruit-growers and consumer would benefit if ranchers could ship by parcels post cases of fruit weighing up to 25 lbs., was the opinion of the directors who, by resolution, authorized the executive of the association to take the matter up with the Dominion government with the object of securing the amendment desired.

The directors approved of the election of Mr. Richards and R. M. Winslow, secretary to the executive of the National Fruit Growers' Association, which is composed of members selected from the executives of the various provincial associations, the object of the larger organization being to take action on matters of Dominion-wide importance, such as the 'Fruit Marks' Act, the dumping of American fruit and the holding of Dominion conferences. A meeting of the executive will be held at some place in the east about the end of September.

NANAIMO

What came pretty near to being another drowning tragedy occurred on the waterfront near the Vancouver-Nanaimo Coal Company's wharf Wednesday afternoon, when a woman named Mrs. S. Anderson made a determined attempt to commit suicide.

According to information Mrs. Anderson, who has not been in good health and as a result has fallen into a despondent state, after writing a letter announcing her intention of ending her life, and leaving it on the shore, walked into the water alongside the company's wharf and continued to wade in until the water reached her neck. She was perceived by people on the shore and their shouts aroused the attention of a young man named Sid Henley. The latter at first thought a child had fallen into the water and he ran along the wharf. He could see nothing from the pier and then he turned to the woman.

She would make no replies to his questions, and he then started to wade out to her. As soon as she saw this she threw herself forward into deep water, and Henley had to quicken his movements to get to her. When he first reached her she did not resist his efforts to save her, but as they got into shallow water she struggled wildly and he had quite a time in getting her to the shore.

She was then unconscious and Doctor Ingham was sent for, and a call put in for the pulmotor appliance at the No. 1 rescue station. However, Mrs. Anderson speedily regained consciousness and she was taken to her home where she is being looked after. It is thought that Mrs. Anderson will suffer no serious effects from her immersion, but had it not been for the fortunate appearance and prompt and plucky services of Sid Henley, the incident would undoubtedly have ended in a tragedy.

COQUITLAM

Moon and Silverton, the contractors for the waterworks installation in Port Coquitlam, have been awarded the contract for the installation of the Mallardville system. Their tender figure was $11,849. Work on the installation of the system in the French village will probably be started as soon as the Mallardville waterworks construction by-law and the general by-law respecting water supply in Port Coquitlam are finally passed.

Nearly four hundred members of the Ancient Order of Foresters, of Vancouver, New Westminster, East Vancouver and Coquitlam courts, visited the city on Saturday. The occasion was a basket picnic. Arriving early in the morning the party proceeded to the Agricultural hall grounds. Athletic sports were held, including a baseball game between a team from the Foresters and one picked from the city. In the evening, from 8 until 9, dancing was enjoyed in the hall. The visitors included District Chief Ranger J. J. Randolph, of New Westminster, and other prominent officials of the lodges. Assistance in making the local arrangements had been rendered by T. J. Routley, A. B. McKenzie, and G. H. Fisher, of the local court, on the joint picnic committee.

Light Can't Harm Schlitz in Brown Bottles

IMPORTANT

Our reason for using a case with lid is to prevent the sun or light from coming in contact with the beer.

Drinkables should be kept covered and protected at all times. When packing for fishing, hunting and other outings, the Schlitz paper lid should be placed on the beer case, holding same, the sun or light affecting the beer.

This case contains cards with this notice. Please hand them to your friends, and caution your people accordingly, thereby greatly obliging.

DEATH ACCIDENTAL.

Inquest Held on Body of Robert B. Isbister, Killed at Sooke.

Accidental death was the verdict found by the coroner's jury which on Saturday afternoon inquired into the circumstances of the fatal accident which befell Robert B. Isbister at Sooke the day before.

The inquest was held in the police court chamber, and formal evidence was given before Coroner Hart and the jurors of the occurrence. William Isbister, a brother of the dead man, said they were both born in the Orkney Islands, his brother being eighteen years old. They have no relatives on this side of the water.

Isbister was employed at Cook's camp, some five miles west of Sooke Harbor, on a logging contract. A train of logs had been loaded on trucks and the engine was backing on trucks and another man heard him cry out once and on rushing towards him they found him lying on the ground unconscious with blood streaming from his left leg. They had word sent to Sooke Harbor for Dr. Telford and did what little they could to stop the flow of blood.

William Isbister and Nicholas Eluiche were heard by the jury as to the accident, but neither was able to throw light on the actual happening, nor to do more than surmise how it took place. Whether Isbister got crushed between the cars or slipped and had his leg crushed by a wheel of the train is not known. He was not run over but the flesh had the appearance of being squeezed with terrible pressure, and there were three long and deep cuts in it which accounted for the heavy bleeding.

Constable Owens, of the provincial police, was sent out as soon as word was received here of the accident, which was about half past four o'clock, and he made a quick run out by motor car, bringing the body in that night. He told the jury what facts he had been able to gather on the spot as to the accident.

The jury consisted of H. B. Newman, foreman; A. Blyth, H. J. J. Mackenzie, W. Wentworth and Alex. Wood.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

July 27.

Governor Douglas, of British Columbia, sent troops to San Juan Island 93 years ago to-day, and the question of the ownership of the little island reached a critical stage. The Oregon treaty of 1846 did not cover the point at issue, and both Great Britain and the United States claimed the island, which was of strategic importance on account of its commanding the straits between British Columbia and the United States territories. Early in July, 1898, Gen. Harney sent United States soldiers to San Juan "to protect the American settlers." On the twenty-seventh of the month Governor Douglas also sent troops. The joint occupation promised serious trouble, but the British Columbia executive, although he had a naval force at hand, exercised great moderation, and was superseded by the more pacific Gen. Winfield Scott, who made conciliatory overtures which were accepted by Gov. Douglas. A temporary truce was patched up and continued until 1872, when the German Emperor, as arbitrator, awarded the island to the United States.

Anthony Burns, for many years the leading minister to the negro Baptists of Canada, died at St. Catharines, Ont., 51 years ago to-day. Burns, born a slave in Virginia, escaped from the South and reached Boston, where he was arrested under the fugitive slave law. Wendell Phillips, Theodore Parker and other abolitionists, held a protest meeting on Faneuil hall, and Thomas W. Higginson headed a party which made an unsuccessful attempt to rescue the negro. Burns was returned to his owner, but a subscription was raised in Boston to purchase his freedom, and the ex-slave, after studying theology, came to this country to begin his ministry, and remained in Canada until his death.

July 28.

On this date in 1758 the flag of England floated over Louisbourg, and the gallant Wolfe, whose batteries had partially demolished the Cape Breton stronghold, wrote to his mother, in a remarkable vein of prophecy: "North America will some time hence be a vast empire—the seat of power and learning. There will grow a people out of our little spot, England, that will fill this vast space and divide the great portion of the globe with the Spaniard, who is possessed of the other half. It is my humble opinion that the French name may be rooted out, if our government will follow the blows they have given and prosecute the war with the vigor it requires." Gazing at the moss-grown ruins and grassy mounds of the Louisbourg of to-day, it is difficult to realize how important the "impregnable" fortress once was. When Amherst and Wolfe appeared before Louisbourg in June, 1758, the French under Drucour abandoned their outposts and retired within the fortress. From the 8th of June until the 28th of July the defenders gallantly answered the terrific hammering of the English guns. On the latter date the last of the French guns fired its final shot, and the shattered works stood open to assault. Drucour sought to make terms, but Amherst offered nothing but "unconditional surrender." The English occupation commenced on the 27th, and on the following day the banner of England was hoisted over Cape Breton.

To-day is the anniversary of the birth of Prof. William Blain Anderson, educator, 1877; Dr. Alexander L. Black, famous surgeon, Huntingdon county, Quebec, 1882; and the Rev. Dr. Robert F. Coyle, Presbyterian clergyman, at Roseneath, Ont., 1850.

FIRST THINGS

July 27.

The first rebellion against the federal government in the United States was the "Whiskey Insurrection" of western Pennsylvania, which had its beginning 122 years ago to-day, when a meeting was held in Brownsville, Pa., to protest against the imposition of an excise tax on spirits distilled from grain. This measure had been devised by Alexander Hamilton to bring revenue into the treasury of the infant republic. It provided for a tax of from 9 to 25 cents a gallon, according to the strength of the liquor. The farmers of western Pennsylvania were hard hit by the tax. Owing to the high cost of transportation, they could make a living out of grain growing only by converting the product of their fields into liquor. Feeling ran high after the Brownsville meeting, and one of the tax collectors was tarred and feathered. President Washington issued a proclamation in which he "earnestly exhorted and admonished" the rebellious farmers, but they paid no heed to it. Five hundred strong, they attacked the house of Gen. Neville, western Pennsylvania revenue collector, and in the battle the leader of the insurrection, John Holcroft, or "Tom the Tinker," was killed. The insurrection was finally put down by federal troops under "Light Horse" Harry Lee.

July 28.

The first step toward establishing the foreign missions movement in America was taken 107 years ago to-day, when a few students of Williams College, at Williamstown, Mass., met to hold an open-air prayer meeting. Rain forced them to seek refuge in the shelter of a haystack, where they continued their devotions. While the storm was in progress Samuel J. Mills announced to his companions a plan for sending missionaries to foreign lands and the ultimate evangelization of the whole world. The scheme so appealed to the college boys that they banded themselves together as the "Society of Brethren," and determined to devote themselves to foreign missions. Out of this society, in 1816, came the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. On July 28, 1867, a monument was dedicated on the site of the "haystack meeting." It bears the inscription, "The Birthplace of American Foreign Missions, 1806."

ALBION ADMINISTER DECISIVE DEFEAT

Victoria Cricketers Outplayed by Their Old Rivals at Beacon Hill

H. A. ISMAY AND MILNE STARRED FOR VICTORS

Fine Fielding on Both Sides Featured Match; Other Results

Not since Rachel went weeping for her children and would not be comforted has there been such a walling as might have been heard in the camp of the Victoria cricketers on Saturday when on the greensward at Beacon Hill their premier talent went down to defeat before the Albion stalwarts to the tune of 85 runs.

Yet in many respects Saturday's match measured up well in point of keenness and excellent cricket with matches that have been played in previous years. In particular must a measure of praise be accorded to the Albion eleven for the fielding of the team as a whole. Throughout the Victoria innings the stopping of groundballs and the picking up was very clean, and while one or two catches went unaccepted, many hard chances were snuffed up.

The two chief factors in the victory of the Albions' victory were undoubtedly the batting of Ismay, who went in first and played a fine innings of just over the half century, and the bowling of Milne, who took five wickets on a sun-baked pitch at a cost of a little over six runs apiece. The display of Ismay was one of the most finished that this sterling cricketer has ever exhibited. He played all the bowling with an ease and confidence that were good to see, and hit cleanly, hard and often. Milne also played a superb innings, and with a lot of spin on the ball had several of the batsmen skying his deliveries into the safe hands of the Albion fielders.

As an indication of the uniformity of the batting of both teams, it is only necessary to state that no fewer than thirteen players out of the twenty-two participating reached double figures. For Victoria, York and Gray played capable innings, though each gave a hard chance early on. Gray hit very cleanly and scored most of his runs by the boundary route. York was not quite as aggressive in his methods, but placed his shots excellently. J. D. Scott also looked well set for a good score when he was well caught by E. W. Ismay.

Victoria batted first. The pitch underneath the matting was very hard, and consequently the ball bumped dangerously on occasions, several of the batsmen being hit about the body. Victoria started well, Gillespie and Maurice Cane facing Parsons and Milne with confidence. Gillespie was first out, being caught by Pegler after playing a shocking stroke to one of Milne's medium-paced deliveries. He scored thirteen. Cane also just reached the unlikely number when he was inexplicably out, clean bowled by one of Grant's slow balls. York partnered Gray and runs came more steadily, the younger player reaching the boundary on several occasions with clean drives. Ismay failed to hold on to a hard chance at square leg, giving Gray a life, and later Ward similarly deflected with a somewhat easier chance from York. Gray was out after scoring 25, trying to hit a well pitched ball from Gardner.

Hebden retired first ball, scoping a leg-break, and J. D. Scott came in and hit lustily, bringing up the century on the score board with a three to the corner of the field. Meanwhile he had lost York, who had been caught by the watchful Pegler off Milne. Spencer hit a boundary, and then got out when Grant held on to a sizzling drive. Save for a bright brief innings by Major, there was nothing else of note, and the side was retired for a total of 141, not a particularly creditable showing on such a fast pitch.

Albion's Innings.

Collinson and L. B. V. York opposed the first two batsmen, Ismay and Ward. Undeterred by a smart crack on the shoulder from a rising ball, Ismay hit out freely. Ward was nicely caught by Hebden at cover point. Grant's innings was a short but a merry one. He laid on the willow for some purpose, till attempting a huge hit to leg the ball fell into the safe hands of Gallher, who was standing right on the boundary line.

Gray's length was somewhat awry at this stage, and Gallher replaced him. Ismay still continued to hit freely, and though Pegler and Ismay went after scoring 18 and 12 respectively, with Milne in the Victoria score was passed. Changes of bowling were tried in plenty, but Milne, Gardner and Parsons all raked in plenty of runs, and time came with the Albion easy victors.

In spite of the fact that they were kept busy all the time, the Victoria fielding lost none of its keenness, and very little was allowed to go by. Spencer played well behind the stumps, and only allowed 4 byes.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT WAS OPENED TO-DAY

Many Entries and Prospects of Good Matches This Week; Results of Play

The annual Victoria tennis tournament opened at the courts at the Willows this morning under weather conditions that were not particularly propitious. Cold and a raw wind served to make the conditions at the start very depressing. The turf, however, on all the courts was in excellent shape, and some fast tennis was witnessed in the morning's play.

The tournament promises, in spite of the absence of the local stars in England, and the defection of Fottrell and Johnson in not being present from California, to be as great a success as ever. There is a large number of entries. Joe Tyler, the Spokane crack, is here, as is also Evans, who won the mainland singles championship at the Terminal City last week.

Prospects for the titles would appear to give Joe Tyler a hold on the singles in the absence of B. P. Schweigert; while Evans and Garret appear to be the favorites for the doubles. Among the ladies Miss Schmitt, Miss Pitts and Miss Lawson are likely to be among the last group, while the two latter pair are likely for the ladies' doubles.

To-Day's Play.

The play this morning was confined to the men's singles. The brothers Fulton, who seem likely to figure in the closing rounds of the various events had each an easy ride this morning winning in straight sets. McCallum had a hard fight with Maxwell in the first set, only winning out in the twentieth game. Dowdell vanquished Gallher, the loss of only one game. T. C. Fulton beat Pender, also sacrificing a lone game, while the winner's brother, R. W. Fulton overcame Bagshaw, winning in twelve straight games.

The Results.

McCallum beat Maxwell, 11-9, 6-2.
Dowdell beat Gallher, 6-1, 6-0.
T. C. Fulton beat Pender, 6-1, 6-0.
R. W. Fulton beat Bagshaw, 6-0, 6-0.
Mason beat Berrill, 4-6, 6-2, 6-1.

MGR. STAGNI DEPARTS

Apostolic Delegate Pontificated at Solemn Mass in Cathedral Sunday Morning.

Monsignor Stagni, apostolic delegate to Canada, is to leave for Vancouver on the midnight boat to-night. After spending a day in Vancouver he will proceed to Calgary, where he will install Bishop McNally, who was recently consecrated in Rome. Following his brief visit in Calgary, the delegate will return to Ottawa, completing his tour of the west.

Afterwards moving the delegate pontificated at solemn high mass, and afterwards preached from the gospel of the day, which was the eleventh Sunday after Pentecost.

At solemn high mass Monsignor Stagni was assisted by Father McDonald, of the cathedral, as deacon, and Rev. John Gibney, of Brentwood, as sub-deacon. Father Letorne of the cathedral, was assistant priest, and Father Silver was master of ceremonies. Rev. Father Donnelly, O. M. L. of London, Eng., and Rev. Father Finn, leader of the famous boys' choir at the Paulist church in Chicago, were deacon and sub-deacon of honor. Bishop MacDonald occupied his throne and was assisted by Masters Styles, Soli and Hildreth Lawless. Master Benedict Miller was cross-bearer, Master Albert McDougall censer bearer and Master Bert Sullivan crozier and mitre bearer, and Leo Fagan was book bearer. The Easter mass was rendered by a full choir.

Monsignor Stagni also assisted at the service at 7.30 last evening, and said mass for the Poor Clare sisters this morning.

Before leaving Monsignor Stagni spoke of the pleasure his visit to Vancouver had given him. During his automobile trip to Alberni he had an opportunity of seeing the land and gaining first hand information about it. He was particularly struck with the splendid forests he saw, and expressed the opinion that he felt he was passing through one of the finest forests in the world.

C. E. MASS MEETING

Rally of Young People in Metropolitan Church Addressed by William Shaw.

William Shaw was the speaker at a rousing rally of young people in Metropolitan Methodist church Sunday afternoon. Over 800 young people from the various Christian Endeavor societies in the different churches of the city, as well as the delegates to the convention, listened to an inspiring address from the international secretary upon the "Fundamentals of Christian Endeavor." The importance of training young people in Christian work on up-to-date lines was emphasized by the speaker. W. J. Shortt, the new president, occupied the chair, and the other events of the meeting being several musical numbers. The delegates returned home last night.

AUCTION RITZ HOTEL

Sheriff in Possession to Satisfy Debts Estimated at $40,000.

After a career of some 15 months under the management of Mr. and Mrs. James Baker, the Ritz hotel is to be sold Friday by the Sheriff to satisfy the claims of landlord of the premises, the only other events of the meeting being several musical numbers. The delegates returned home last night.

Australians and New Zealanders are the greatest meat-eaters in the world. The former eat 228 pounds of meat a year each and the latter 212 pounds; while the Americans eat 185 pounds and the British only 106 pounds.

AT OPEN AIR MEETING

On the edge of the crowd at the unemployed demonstration yesterday afternoon at North Ward park. Victor R. Midgley, secretary of the British Columbia Federation of Labor, was speaking.

since Wednesday last and has been keeping the hotel going in order that it may be sold as a going concern. Except for the presence of a sheriff's officer in the lobby as a formal protection against anything being removed from the premises there is no evidence of the change of hands. The only part of the business not affected is the dining room, which is being run by an independent party.

Intimation has been given that there will be several determined bidders at the auction Friday, one of them being Mr. Gray, of Saskatoon, who spent several days here a short time ago trying to buy the place from the proprietors.

MAY USE NAVAL YARD

Volunteer Naval Force Will Be Permitted to Train at Esquimalt.

Inspired by the arrival of the battle cruiser H. M. S. New Zealand in harbor, and taking advantage of the presence of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries here, the movement to establish a naval volunteer force in British Columbia took shape in a deputation which waited on Hon. J. D. Hazen.

The minister stated in reply that while it was impossible to establish the force until the necessary legislation has been enacted, the department of naval service, would place the Naval Yard at the disposal of the volunteers for service. Further information, and the names of those willing to commence training will be received at the offices of James & Jarvis, 1007 Government St., or by Stanley Geary, P. O. Box 1282; Edmund P. Kay, 1721 Richmond Avenue, Oak Bay; Russell Ponder, 16 Mount Douglas Apts, Oak Bay Junction.

The visit of H. M. S. New Zealand brought back on Friday and Saturday the old spirit which used to hover over Esquimalt. The sailors in the streets and the small boats moving back and forth reminded the people of the time when the squadron was stationed there. Many regrets were heard expressed and some pointed out that if there were a Canadian fleet unit, ships in the harbor would bring back the old welcome conditions, with their stimulation to business.

NEW CONTEST PROMISED

Champion Log-Roller Issues Challenge; Big Excursion From Royal City for Carnival.

If contestants can be found to take the water with Chris Peterson, of Chehalis, who has issued a challenge through the Carnival committee for a log-rolling contest, a most interesting contest will be staged during the water sports of the big festival next week. Peterson was for five years champion log-roller of Minnesota and is eager to meet a number of the expert lumbermen of the province at carnival week. The contests are wonderful tests of skill and should prove a big attraction. Word of Peterson's challenge has been sent to all the lumber camps and answers are expected daily. The committee has decided to offer gold, silver and bronze medals to the three most successful competitors.

Mayor Gray, of New Westminster, has written to Alderman Cuthbert that a citizens' committee has arranged for an excursion from that city to join in the celebration of the flower carnival on August 8. The C. P. R. has agreed to put on one of the Princesses and the excursion will leave on time to arrive here at noon. All the tickets have already been sold and the accommodation of the boat will be taxed to the limit.

MOTOR CAR BURNED UP.

Passenger Drove Hired Motor Into Ditch in Elk Lake Road.

Thanks to the recklessness of a young passenger who insisted on driving his car, Thomas Baker, of St. Lawrence street, is to-day without an automobile. Baker took three passengers aboard Saturday night to go to Sidney and one of them blunderingly said he knew the way and wanted to drive. The car was in the Elk Lake road about half past ten when this chap suddenly drove her straight into the ditch overturning the car. The men were all thrown out, nobody being seriously injured. While the party was away hunting for assistance to right the car the gasoline caught fire and when they returned the whole car was ablaze. The machine is practically a total loss but is partially covered by insurance.

REALTY CONVENTION MEETS AT WINNIPEG

Between Nine Hundred and One Thousand Attend Sixth Annual Meeting

Winnipeg, Man., July 28.—With three blows of his gavel President Edward S. Judd, of Chicago, this morning called the sixth annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges to order and the largest convention ever held by real estate men is fairly underway. Not only is it the largest convention they have held, but it is the first that has taken place in Canada. It is estimated that between 900 and 1,000 are in attendance. One of the first acts of President Judd was to appoint James W. Heidenburg, of Chicago, sergeant-at-arms.

Addresses of welcome were delivered by President Sir Rodmond Roblin, Mayor T. R. Deacon, ex-Mayor Waugh, and President W. J. Bulman, of the industrial bureau, to which the president of the association responded, drawing attention to the fact that this was the tenth anniversary of the birth of the Winnipeg real estate exchange, and also celebrated the hundred years of peace between Great Britain and the United States. The principal feature this afternoon will be the five-minute speeches in competition for the silver trophy which is presented to the National Association by Edward M. Wilmoughby on behalf of the Chicago board. The visiting ladies will be entertained at Government House by Lieutenant-Governor D. C. Cameron and Mrs. Cameron.

Companies Act Charges.—A further lot of charges of failure to make the statutory returns required by the Companies Act have been entered by the Attorney General's department against local concerns. In these the Island Construction and Development Company, Limited, and the Bazan Brick and Tile Company, Limited, are the defendants, with D. C. Reid, A. E. Forbes, H. Farrant, R. J. Hearst, J. W. Givens and D. S. Tait as directors of the first-named and the same, except Mr. Givens, as directors of the latter. When the cases were called in police court to-day L. Arnold Hanna, of Tait, Brandon & Hall, asked for an adjournment until Wednesday. H. Despard Twigg, who is acting in the matter for the department had no objection to this.

MR. FORBES-ROBERTSON'S GREATEST MOMENT.

"The greatest moment in my life," said Mr. Forbes-Robertson to a London Express representative, "was, I think, when I played Hamlet for the first time. It was at the Lyceum theatre on September 11, 1897."

"I had played it as a lad in the drawing-room at home, with my sister 'doubling' the parts of Ophelia and one of the gravediggers, and it had been for many years the one ambition of my life."

"I felt very diffident about playing it, however, until Irving asked me why I did not do so. When I protested that I considered my aspiration egotistic, he replied: 'No ambition which is worthy and noble is egotistic so long as one is sincere in it. Go ahead! Play it!'"

"Not long afterwards, taking my courage in both hands, I did. The next morning I was greeted by Irving with: 'You've done it, my boy! You've done it!' and he clapped me affectionately on the shoulder."

"Irving added: 'Now go and play it round the world, and after sixteen years I am taking his advice.'"

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

July 27.

Mrs. Antonio F. de Navarro, who was Miss Mary Anderson, the favorite

American actress of a generation now passing, will celebrate her fifty-fourth birthday to-day. "Mme. Navarro appears to grow younger and more beautiful as time goes by," declared a recent London dispatch, which adds that she will probably visit America within a few months. Miss Anderson retired from the stage some twenty-three years ago, when she married Antonio

F. de Navarro, a celebrated scholar and a world-famous authority on pewter. She has a son of seventeen, who is described as "an enthusiast on Back, Beethoven and football."

Mrs. Navarro is a member of the board of governors of the Shakespeare

Memorial theatre at Stratford-on-

Aven, and she was largely responsible for arranging the coming American tour of the Stratford-on-Avon players.

The company will begin their American invasion in Montreal early in October, according to present plans, and the route takes them to the Pacific coast and return, covering the chief cities of Canada and the United States, as far south as New Orleans. Mrs.

Navarro is a Shakespeare enthusiast, and her first trip to England, now her home, was made as a pilgrim to the Stratford shrine.

The gifted actress was born in Sacramento, Cal., July 28, 1828. Her mother was of German descent, and her father an Englishman. The family moved to Louisville, Ky., when Mary was less than a year old, and the father entered the Confederate army, dying at Mobile, Ala., just half a century ago. The widow married

Dr. Hamilton Griffin, of Louisville, a

Shakespearean scholar, and he carefully fostered the natural histrionic gifts of his step-daughter. Under the instruction of Charlotte Cushman and Father Miller, a Franciscan priest, Miss Anderson was fitted for a stage career, and at sixteen played

Juliet at a trial matinee in a Louisville theatre. Her success won orgagements with stock companies in Louisville, St. Louis and other cities, and afterward she went with John

McClough to San Francisco, and with John T. Ford, of Baltimore, in a debut was made in New York. Her first time in Troy, N. Y., in 1881, and the following year in New York. Thirty years ago she made her London bow in Parthenia, and played a continuous season of ten months, winning great social and artistic success.

She retired from the stage, owing to illness, in 1889, and resided at induments offered her to return. Her married life with Mr. Navarro has been an exceptionally happy one. She is immensely popular in English society, and notable from King George and Queen Mary down delight to honor

California's fair and gifted "native daughter."

Of the fifty or sixty thousand original Babylonian antiquities in the Semite section of the University of Pennsylvania museum, far the greater part were contributed by Prof. Herman Volzsh Hilprecht, the eminent Assyriologist and authority in unelform research. Herr Prof. Hilprecht was born fifty-four years ago to-day in Hohenzeleben, Germany, and has been a member of the Semite section of the "Penny" museum for over a quarter of a century. He has been the author of numerous expeditions for scientific exploration to Nippur, Babylonia, Asia Minor and Syria, and many of his "finds" have been of great popular and scientific interest.

DAM NEARLY COMPLETE

Structure at Jordan River, Built by

B. C. E. Ry. is Receiving

Finishing Touches.

The great dam at Jordan River is almost completed. The gigantic project which has been launched, built and practically finished most unexpectantly, is stated to be the greatest in Canada. Of reinforced concrete, it has been erected by the British Columbia Electric Railway company itself, though it is under American patents.

To-day the dam is holding 300,000 cubic feet of water and this vast volume will be stored until the summer months of next year, for the river always runs dry in the droughty season. Thus power will be stored for the great power plants of the company,

so that even in the driest weather,

there will be enough potential water power to keep the plant going for years.

Another fortnight will see the work absolutely complete, for the last finishing touches are being put on the great structure, which has been under way for many months past.

WEATHER CHANGE

Every Appearance of Coming Rain on

Pacific Slope—Northern Disturbance Responsible.

A decided change was experienced in local weather conditions this weekend, being particularly noticeable about half way through Sunday afternoon, when a cold breeze sprang up inquiry at the Meteorological office this morning revealed the fact that the change was due to an atmospheric disturbance off the north coast, which resulted in a fall of barometer right down the coast.

This morning the barometer was steady but there is every indication of rain. The barometer is low also over

Alberta and northern British Columbia. Heavy rain fell yesterday at Prince Rupert while showers also fell in other parts of the province. Weather conditions are generally fair in the Pacific States while the coast instruments show every appearance of approaching rain.

CADET CAMP CLOSES

WITH DAY OF SPORTS

Lt.-Col. Leckie Issues Glowing Valedictory to Boys; Nobody Ill or Hurt in Week

Sidney cadet camp is over and its only fault was its brevity. Military training was possible on practically only four days, Monday being taken up with settling in camp, Saturday with sports and Sunday with departure, leaving only Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday for drills.
